This isn't just a message — it's a quiet truth I've carried in my heart for a long time.
Some feelings don't need noise or drama; they grow silently, becoming deeper with time.
That's how my feelings for you feel — calm, honest, and real.

Your voice has a softness that brings peace. It's the kind of voice that makes moments feel lighter and conversations feel meaningful. And your kindness — it shows in the smallest things you do, in the way you care, and in the way you understand others.

Your eyes... they shine like diamonds — rare, pure, and beautiful in a way words can't fully explain. There's depth in them, a quiet magic that stays with me long after.

I don't know what the future holds, and I don't want to rush anything.

I just want you to know that my feelings are genuine, respectful, and true — something I value deeply and hold with care.
